

HEPATITIS C

Weight Management Study

We are currently recruiting people for a study looking at how optimising body weight prior to Interferon therapy may affect the outcome of treatment.

Do You Have Hepatitis C (Genotype 1), are overweight and :

- are keen to lose weight
- are willing to be reviewed on a weekly basis by a dietician at Princess Alexandra Hospital before commencing treatment, with monthly follow ups during treatment.
- are planning to have Interferon therapy
- are willing to undergo two MRI scans
- do not have cirrhosis
- have not had any previous treatment for Hepatitis C

If you think you may be eligible and would like further information:
